- (a) Purpose. Garage, yard, and rummage sales are intended, as provided herein, to be infrequent events that do not detract from the residential character or other predominate characteristics of the area in which the events are held. The purpose of such events is to allow for the sale of used goods by families and organizations which normally do not sell such goods on a regular basis or as a business.
- (b) Permitted locations. Garage, yard, or rummage sales may be located within any of the following locations: any residential zoning district, any residential development, any public or private school, or any place of worship.
- (c) Approval and fees.
- (1) Special event approval. An owner, tenant, operator, or authorized agent of a residential dwelling, school, or place of worship must obtain special event approval from the growth management department prior to conducting a garage, yard, or rummage sale. If a permit for such event is not obtained, the city may require the event to be closed or may institute code enforcement action pursuant to article VII.
  - (2) Fees. The city shall not charge a special event fee for a garage, yard, or rummage sale.
- (d) Limitations.
- (1) Consecutive days. A garage, yard, or rummage sale shall not be permitted for more than three consecutive calendar days.
  - (2) Number. A garage, yard, or rummage sale shall not be conducted more than three times during any calendar year at the same address or general location. At least 120 calendar days must elapse between each garage, yard, or rummage sale conducted at the same location.
- (e) Signs. Signs for an event of this nature shall be limited as provided below.
- (1) Location. One sign may be located along the street frontage of the address or location where the event is held. One sign may be located at the intersection closest to the location of the event.
  - (2) Size. Signs shall not exceed four square feet in size.
  - (3) Installation. Signs may be installed one day prior to the event. All signs must be removed on the last day of the event.
- (f) Parking and vehicular circulation. Tables and display areas for garage, yard, or rummage sales shall not block access to parking spaces or vehicle circulation aisles for any multifamily residential development, school, or place of worship. This requirement may be waived by the growth management department.
